Dear Dr. Haldeman:

Your letter of Aug. 8 was awaiting me when I returned from my vacation. Your conference of College Chemistry teachers sounds interesting, and should be a good chance for some of us to get together for a gab fest. I hope that I can attend, but cannot say at the present time as the added work of moving into a new building may last into the late fall, and in any case is an uncertain quantity.

I want to thank you for your courtesy in considering us in planning the date of your conference. At one time our president was planning a "visitation day" during November for High School teachers of science and their students, but I have just learned that this has been cancelled, so that you need not consider us in your plans. Our formal dedication of the building will probably be sometime in the early spring.

Sincerely yours,

W. C. Oelke
