

Both compounds are dissolved in the hot solvent.

Crystals begin to form from the hexagon shaped compound.

Circle shaped compound cannot become part the crystal structure.

One compound is a bunch of crystals and the other is still in solution.